JAPAN WARNS RUSSIA TO "KEEP OUT"

Today

Modern Warfare.
What's In A Name?
Science Marches On.
Signor Grandi.

—By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright, 1931)

NOT much news came in the war, from the front in the east. Flying airplanes evidently were war method. Formerly when we were marching, populations returned to their walls to defend themselves.

No Japanese planes came in our racing, but they did come in the city, and to the country, and to the same point into the country like rats from a ship.

One brief note: "The spirit of fair demonstration," is said to have been born in Tsitsihar, capital of Northern Manchuria.

Washington presents "Japan's Invasion" in "Manchurian Invasion."

Why? What difference does it make to Washington, which particular Asiatic tribe occupies the fertile lands of Manchuria?

Assured Mongolians and others have been moving over the Far

SAYS TRADE IS REAL REMEDY LABOR SLUMP

Liberal Leader Advocates Appointment of Commission to Deal With Situation—
Says Gov't. Must Change Policies

By CHARLES BRUCE
Canadian Press Writer

HALIFAX, Nov. 18.—The only solution to the problem of unemployment is "trade," said Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Wednesday, "trade to associate our land with other lands. Until this country's policies are so fashioned as to make this possible again, Canada can never attain her rightful portion of prosperity."

King made a short speech at the Bennett government's financial press conference, and spoke with unemployment relief, the federal opposition leader issued a call for more effective Liberal organization. Addressing the Nova Scotia Liberal Association in conference, he asked that a campaign of education on political policies be carried on by periodic debates on general elections, "to bring home the truth to every man, woman and child in Canada, so that when the time comes, the battle for better government and larger liberty will be already won."

GOVERNMENT MUST CHANGE POLICIES

"I am not going to attempt to force the government to the country now," the Liberal leader said. "I do not believe the people want a general strike. But every effort must be made to get this government to change its policies. I am not asking that you demand that an abnormally high tariff is not good enough. That is not what I am asking. These sections have many supporters of the administration in parliament. I am asking that you demand that they are justified in saying to him: 'We are going to eat our vote in the election.'"

Mr. King advocated the appointment of a commission to deal with unemployment, the appointment of a minister of finance apart from the prime minister.

SINGLE RULE FOR 3 PRAIRIE AREAS URGED

Solid Efforts of Farm and Labor Sought by Head of U.F.C.

Canadian Press

BRANDON, Man., Nov. 19.—Single government for the three prairie provinces was urged yesterday by the Canadian Farmers' Union, which has been formed in the West, adviser J. J. MacAuley, president of United Farmers of Canada (Saskatchewan branch) told the meeting.

MacAuley said that the prairies last night that prairie government was costing entirely too much.

That was one of the outstanding conclusions in the latest business session of the Canadian Farmers' Union.

The second economic issue hopeful some form of inflation which will be better in business will be seen in the near future, MacAuley said.

He also said that the stock market will continue to fall until the bottom of the depression is reached, and that the depression is at least 60 per cent finished, says Mr. MacAuley.

"It is time, I think, to read economic signs," Mr. MacAuley continues. "There is no weather, the weather is the best, the West, campaign funds." There is every possibility of a conference in the near future between the prairie areas of the area from Quebec to the Pacific coast, he said.

MacAuley said that the prairie government will gather momentum with business conditions.

The day of bargain buying is almost over, says Mr. MacAuley, and the price of bigger profits is almost here.

U.S. Industries Will Seek Factory Sites in Dominion

CANADIAN DUTY INCREASE ALSO ADDS INTEREST

Americans Would Share in Preferential Treatment

Accorded Dominion

Associated Press

C. NEW YORK, N.Y., Nov. 19.—The New York Times in a special dispatch from London says:

"Great Britain is being looked to by manufacturers of the United States and Canada for new and branch factories in view of the anti-dumping measure now passing through Congress."

The Times says further:

"With the increase in advantage over the United States in exports to Great Britain, there is a call for favorable treatment under the imperial preference system. American manufacturers may have increased consideration of Canada to share in the preferential treatment, and in Canada to evade temporary import duty."

.60% IN OPERATION

"United States branch factories in Canada are now operating at 60% and the latest information is that there are about 170 in Great Britain."

"The movement toward branch factories, it is considered, will have considerable impetus with the recent revisions of the Canadian tariff, which are to be introduced in April, and will be offered by Canada in an effort to bring more United States companies into the country."

"There have increased sales of sites at advantageous terms, and the number of branch plants and parts exported to Canada for assembling."

A committee has reached officials here that various Canadian interests were instrumental in getting the revised United States branch factories, showing the advantages which would accrue to Canada from the preferential treatment anticipated by Canada from the Mother Country."

FIRE DESTROYS CITY RESIDENCE

Home of Joseph Kelly, St. Albert Trail, Total Loss

Fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the home of Joseph Kelly, situated on the St. Albert Trail just west of the city limits.

Wednesday.—The Kelly home under the roof was a total loss.

Mr. Kelly made vain efforts to extinguish the blazes before he ran out of water, and had to depend on a pitch of the furniture before the flames enveloped the house.

On arrival of fire chief, he found one and from Number 8, headed by Deputy fire chief McGregor, was able to put out the flames.

The home and furniture were totally destroyed.

W. Insurance of $100 was carried on the building.

In addition the tire and extent of the damages are as yet unknown.

Oxford Graduate Guilty of Forgery Seeking Sympathy

Associated Press

TORONTO, Nov. 19.—A tale of ill-fortune was heard Wednesday in police headquarters when Bruce Edward Oxford, a graduate of Oxford University, came to seek怜悯 from his misfortunes since his arrival in Canada.

"How long the sentence is providing I can stay here and one will give me a chance to make good," he said.

He had four months in reformatory before he could be followed by an indeterminate period of one year.

Great excitement was expressed on Tuesday night by the parents of the students on Wednesday on receipt of word of the winning of the Canadian national basketball championship by the Alberta team from Ontario.

For the first time that Alberta was figured in having inventories gain control of basketball in Canada, the contests having been against the rest of the country this year under the auspices of the Canadian Basketball Association Club with the Alberta team and stiff competition from Manitoba, Quebec, and Ontario, each with a dozen clubs.

The Alberta team, which has fostered the Boys and Girls Club work in the province to the point where it is now second to Ontario, each year each state is able to make an excellent showing against the rest of the country.

On Saturday, Nov. 14, the Alberta team, which had won the Canadian championships in both water polo and swimming, was defeated by Ontario, but the two teams are still competing.

These are not being followed by Alberta, but the Alberta team from Ontario, which has had a good record.

BURKE GIVEN MEDAL

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Lieut. DeGarmo, Ottawa, Ont., today was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal, given each year to the King's Guard, of all dominions in the empire, for most gallant acts in the field.

Major G. W. Burke, who has been awarded the medal for his good record in the field.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.— A great display was the greatest show of the age old Leiden meteor since the historic display of 1866.

The spectators were most interested. Dr Paul W. Merritt, noted astronomer of the Mount Wilson Observatory, presented the most brilliant and colorful display to Los Angeles.

Bank of England Pays Off Debt to U.S.

SHORT TERM LOAN IS MET ON DUE DATE

British Financial Strength Indicated by Prompt Settlement

Associated Press

NEW YORK, N.Y., Nov. 19.—The Herald-Tribune said the Bank of England was entirely out of debt to the Federal Reserve Board, which paid off its short-term loan to the Federal Reserve Board on October 31, leaving approximately paid off over dollars of the $1,000,000 credit which fell due on that day.

The Herd-Tribune said the fact is due to the prompt settlement of the Federal Reserve's current monthly review, released yesterday.

The price of gold:

"As the British bank of finance has been paying off its debts to the Federal Reserve, it was reduced by only $50,000,000 its credit from the Federal Farm Reserve Board, which has been making use of at least a portion of the $1,000,000 credit which fell due on October 31. The Federal Reserve reveals, however, that at the end of last month it had only $50,000,000 in gold in foreign currencies. This figure is too large to be interpreted as meaning that the Federal Reserve held in connection with its debts to the Bank of England, Reichsbank and its credits of about $6,000,000 to the Austrian National Bank and the Hungarian National Bank."

BETTER SHAPES

"The British bulletin said credit, therefore, the Bank of England was considerably better than it was generally supposed to be."

"It was thought probable that the British bank of finance would have to make up some of its debts, collections falling off this month, undertaken in its support of the British government's new gold policy on September 21, it appears now that these credits might amount to considerably less than the $700,000,000 credits which were outstanding when open on behalf of the British bank."

The British originally obtained a $1,000,000 credit, but increased the amount to $1,500,000, it now claims, though it was nearly exhausted by late August. It had been reduced to another $400,000 on August 28 to support sterling, half of which was given to the Bank of France, the rest to the British National Bank.

GANDHI'S RIGHT HAND MAN

DISARMAMENT VITAL CLAIMS MISS MCPHAIL

That World Peace be Not Delayed Responsibility of Canadians

To be invited in the news paper of world peace is the "greatest achievement of the age," Miss Agnes MacPhail told the Foreign Correspondents' Association of Canada, and former delegate to the League of Nations at Geneva, who is travelling under the auspices of Canadian Friends of Disarmament, said in a speech of disarmament, when she addressed a meeting in Vancouver yesterday.

That world peace be not delayed is the responsibility of all peoples of Canada and all nations because the policy of international disarmament is only a good idea people can not expect too much at the present time, she said. The traditions of history and public opinion throughout the ages. The fact that the world is not yet prepared for the adoption of peace is the most important thing to be on the side of peace, marks a psychological goal for peace, which is to be attained through bravery and the instruments of war.

CANADA'S PART VITAL

Miss MacPhail said the League is vital, for although she is not threatened with war and revolution as are some of the more closely associated nations, Canada must do her part to help to bring Britain in time of crisis or a tremendous weight to be placed upon the shoulders of Canada.

The League has been instrumental in bringing the Canadian government to the League of Nations and the Canadian government to the League of Nations.

It is not the surrounding that make this gathering, attended by representatives from 40 countries, so important, the yearly as embryo. And "No seeder ever sows a seed that does not bear fruit, and no flower ever blooms that does not give fragrance," she said.

The League has its merits as a specialized organization, a back-and-forth enterprise and, most important, as an educational organization.

Getting right into its subject, Miss MacPhail continued, "Poultry production is the industry that will benefit most from disarmament."

The industry has its merits as a specialized organization, a back-and-forth enterprise and, most important, as an educational organization.

There are a number of factors to which special attention must be given, such as the production of eggs, the production of chickens, the production of poultry meat.

EFFICIENT STUDY NEEDED

"An efficient study of market conditions is of first importance. We must learn to estimate the demand and to produce to the greatest advantage all the time.

Disarmament can take us into a period of relative tranquility, but we must learn to estimate the demand and to produce to the greatest advantage all the time.

In Alberta, however, there is also a risk of a great trap. When the market for fowls daily are shipped east to a market which is principally at Montreal, the market for fowls in Alberta is a large quantity of eggs. They want to sell them at a profit, but they are not the best quality. For the past 10 years the price has been on the whole very stable, but there is a great variation in all seasons. The local markets must be used.

When a lady had asked: "Is this the right time to buy a hen?" Miss MacPhail said: "Yes, if you are fortunate, it is a good investment."

Her son, Mr. George, and his wife, Gertrude, and their secretary were set free, and their secretary died physically to their heart's content.

When a lady had asked: "Is this the right time to buy a hen?" Miss MacPhail said: "Yes, if you are fortunate, it is a good investment."

Drugs have been discovered that remedy both these conditions, an important discovery in the field of agriculture. In one case, a man had laid in a farm for eight months and produced no eggs, while others had laid in a farm for eight months and produced many.

When a lady had asked: "Is this the right time to buy a hen?" Miss MacPhail said: "Yes, if you are fortunate, it is a good investment."

A survey of the industry is necessary in every province. Mr. H. A. Harton, president of the Canadian Poultry Association, said: "We must have a survey of the industry in every province, and then we can get a better understanding of the needs of the market."

Mr. Harton said: "We must have a survey of the industry in every province, and then we can get a better understanding of the needs of the market."

RED DEER

No general significance can be attached to the outcome of the Red Deer by-election. In a four-cornered fight the Conservatives succeeded in electing their candidate in the constituency that was long represented by the party leader, Mr. MacLennan. And in another contest was the runner-up at the general elections, when the U. F. A. representative won by a small majority. He had thus the tradition of being the strongest available candidate for the seat.

To suppose that the Government is "on the toboggan," that a Conservative "wave" is sweeping the country, or that the Liberal appeal has been lost, is to ignore the facts. The assumption in these circumstances, The member-elect was widely known throughout the riding and highly esteemed, and his success may have been as much due to this as to an overall general disapproval of the alternative policies of the parties represented by his opponents.

THE WAY TO HELP

Canada's air mail service is badly in need of more business. Last year it produced a heavy deficit, and again in 1931. In fact, the air mail is only being continued because to abandon it would cripple air transport generally and undo what has been done in the last ten years to bring Canada into line with the development of aviation in other countries.

The one way to make the service pay, or come nearer to paying, is to induce people to send more of their mail by air. To do this will help to be shown that the saving in time is an important factor in carrying on business. It is idle to suppose that people generally will patronize the air mail, and pay the heavier charges to keep the planes flying and the country abreast of its contemporaries in aviation.

What the air mail service needs is some convincing and fair and extensive advertising. It is in this, Canada and must be "helped" before it can become widely popular and therefore self-sustaining.

The Postal Department should take a lead from the Department of Trade and Commerce—tell the public about the service it is offering and why they should make use of it.

THE NEW RECIPROCITY

Washington has its tariff commission, upon whose advice the President has sometimes hosted the duty on a class of goods between the time of the entry of the United States into the market and the time it landed at its destination in the United States. Canada has its order-in-council machinery at Ottawa, which has sometimes kept the country down like the family wash on a windy day.

Britain is now trying to hit this lightning-change method of manipulating duties in order to stop the dumping of foreign goods that are being sold there. Washington naturally understood that. It has so long been used to a monopoly in tariff manipulation for trade purposes that it "views with alarm" the tendency of other countries to adopt its own methods and employ them against its export trade.

The tendency is very likely to continue, and it is to be hoped it will. The only problem is whether it is to be stopped by a tariff, and giving world commerce a chance to revive, lies in convincing the United States that it can no longer play the tariff game as it has long played it. Doing this, while we are getting our imports "through" as a national policy. Trade in future will have to be based on a willingness to trade goods.

TREES OR A DESERT?

The commission that is investigating the causes of drought in Saskatchewan, and trying to prevent it, is called the commission on "the causes of desertification". That is significant. It indicates a recognition on the part of the Government and legislature of the province that the absence of trees is one of the causes of drought and soil drifting.

In that connection an interesting address was delivered recently in Winnipeg by Mr. T. C. Main, A.M.E.C.I., division engineer of water supply for the Canadian National Railways. He has had wide experience in Saskatchewan and has made a study of the reasons for the scant rainfall to which the great prairie area is subject.

One sentence from this address will serve to illustrate the instance: "The timberless areas of the forest, of bare trees will supply the air with more moisture than any equal area of water." The beech may not be able to live on the prairies, but there are many kinds of trees which can and do thrive there when given a chance.

Mr. Main's recommendations for dealing with drought conditions are:

1. Plant trees on each side of all road allowances.
2. Make it worth while for the settlers to grow hedges.
3. Encourage tree planting of all kinds.
4. Stop draining lakes and sloughs.
5. Stop pumping out the run-off water as economically as possible.
6. Set aside all light land as forest reserves, and plant these areas with suitable trees.
7. Attack the forest fire menace with the same vim that should be used in fighting an enemy army that is invading our country.

8. Arrange comprehensive programs of drainage and reclamation.

9. Encourage crop rotation for killing weeds and conditioning the land, rather than summer fallowing.

This engineer adds the conviction "that the situation is serious, that it is not temporary, and that something must be done if remedial action is not taken shortly."

As there are sections of Alberta where trees are absent, where rainfall is scant, where soil is drifting, and where the farms are failing, these remarks apply to those parts of this province as well as to the "semi-arid" belt of Saskatchewan, when the U. F. A. representative won by a small majority. He had thus the tradition of being the strongest available candidate for the seat.

To suppose that the Government is "on the toboggan," that a Conservative "wave" is sweeping the country, or that the Liberal appeal has been lost, is to ignore the facts. The assumption in these circumstances, The member-elect was widely known throughout the riding and highly esteemed, and his success may have been as much due to this as to an overall general disapproval of the alternative policies of the parties represented by his opponents.

From the files of the Edmonton Bulletin

Amiel Ziegler, George Model and Jacob Miller, of Waterville, arrived last week from Calgary and are staying at the Hotel Alberta. All three selected claims, and will continue claims that they had selected at High River.

O. S. Swanson, of Waterville, has gone to Prince Albert over the winter with a view to buying a section of land for lumbering to accommodate a settlement of Swiss immigrants.

The system of electric lighting adopted by the local company is known as the Thomson-Houston system, which is used in the Hotel Alberta, O. S. Swanson's. The cost is 50¢ per hour, dynamo a 30 horse power motor and a 50 horse power engine. The circuit with embrace about six miles of primary wire and the secondary will be 1,000 miles. The lamps will be of 16, 22 and 28 watts.

The lamps will be 16, 22 and 28 watts, the 16 being the standard. The power house is now being erected at Ross Landing on the bank of the Bow River. The contract for the turning on of lights on Nov. 20, when the first 100 houses have 300 standard lamps burning. The rates are as follows: dwelling houses, hotel bedrooms, etc., the first lamp costs $1 a month; 2 lamps 85 cents monthly; 3 lamps 75 cents monthly; 4 lamps 65 cents monthly; and so on. The charge for lighting until it is more than 9 lamps is 60¢ a month; the charge is 60¢ per month each. The hours of lighting will be from 7 p.m. to 12 m. on winter evenings, and during dark months probably from 5:30 to 11 in the morning until sun rise.

The Bulletin's Daily Short Story From Real Life

By ROBERT A. WETTEN

THREE customers, the eggs and for that matter pretty much that whole section of the state know him as Gus Grump, and his family—wife and two sons—have a Persian peasant parent to a kinder, if distinctly more Peudous, family title.

From the early age when he struck out for himself, however, there was precious little difference between Gus and Grump. He was a gambler, whatever he could help it, in his business dealings, once he had climbed a stair or two up in the world. Chipping and flint-hearted was Gus, and not too safe a bet for the average burglar.

One small business and another. He had a few, but he had more, and his territories. Modest it was in some form of shopkeeping to which he had turned in his days of remaining only a couple of years at a time, but he had been a gambler to his ventures, but had gradually profited a little in each line, but one, and then another, had given him financial advantages to himself; he accumulated a few thousand ends and stepped out into the middle scale.

THE FREE LUNCH BACK IN THE CLOUT

It was to the old saloon that he returned after his days as an acrement man permitted. That line had been his first, and he had made a success of it. Many of his fellow countrymen even newer to America and its ways had made a success of it, and he was sure of success. In it, too, Gus planned to make a success of his family's accomplishments of his ample lot—no hurry for Berlin.

He had been a hard worker, cooking and attendance, and no doubt, a hard bethnd the bar when he shone a bright light on his own absence from the place a little rarely. Once he had been a regular customer, but the vestry most of his waking hours.

So he plunged, buying out an old friend, and then, as he had done so many too steadily from an unpredictable source in a lower middle-class section of the New World, a sum of $30,000 or so on the fringe of a fairly bustling town far from home, pre-Volted New York.

The place had been a fair prospect, but the weather was bad in the day, but the business as well as the profits were good. Gus had a steady income with his scanty front porch, up a half-dozen wooden steps from the

Woman M.P. Warns Against Indifference To Peace Movement

Agnes MacPhail Gives Stirring Address at Women's Canadian Club

Strikingly deeper than the surface sentiment existing against war today, Mrs. Agnes MacPhail, Canada's only woman member of parliament, was elected to speak at the meeting of the British section of the women's Canadian Club has seen for some time, when she addressed a tea meeting in the Mayfair Hotel on Tuesday afternoon on "The War and Disarmament."

Poiting out to her audience the importance of the Feb.-uary disarmament conference, she said: "The statement of the world as we see it turns point which will decide for or against the conference, is equally as clear as the present attitude of the nations, and the possibilities of the future."

It was very well for women to express their views, but they must be logical, Mrs. MacPhail felt, but the time had come for definite action. Strengthening the League of Nations was the number of famous statements, she pointed out, that were made in favour of the conference.

She said: "The last chance of the nations to save themselves . . . failed and hoped that the world would not wait until the last minute to have the states delegates sent to Conference from Canada. "From your city . . . by letter and telegrams and important persons . . . came the important messages to have the statesmen representing the bulk of public opinion in Canada to do every thing that the Dominion may strengthen the British Empire in its support of armaments.

MILITARY MEN WOULD GO

Mrs. MacPhail said that the new government had made the Minister of National Defence and other military men responsible for the peace of the world. She suggested as four fine men already mentioned in eastern regions, Sir Alexander Rutherford, Robert Borden, the Hon. Ernest La Pointe and the Hon. Newton R. O'Brien, as men of conviction which had lifted Agnes MacPhail to the House of Commons.

She said: "I am sure that the agents of armament firms who were present every day in Ottawa and of the representatives of the Canadian Government, Commanders-in-Chief, etc., etc., and more than 90 per cent of the vote in the Dominion, so far as the world's fate is concerned, are men of government or economic conditions." She said that the speaker in a charming manner.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SERVICE

The young people of Shiloh Baptist Church took charge of the service.

Mrs. Agnes Letter was speaker for the morning service, her topic being "The Young People's Service."

Her speech was followed by the efforts of National Secretary of the League of Nations. In the evening the efforts of the Royal Canadian Legion were carried on the stage.

The largest check to date had been received from the Army and Navy Veterans of Canada.

BEST OF HONOR

Mrs. MacPhail said that she had always been a strong advocate of personal equality of women; that was why she had felt her duty to make a speech to the women of Canada.

She said: "I am sure that many Canadians that, having taken as a loan during the great conflict this year, have found themselves

which has already found everywhere a working and active force. She spoke of the work done by the national organization of the League of Nations. In other words, the efforts of the Royal Canadian Legion were carried on the stage.

Two Months Imprisonment For Mrs. Marie McLeod

FOUND GUILTY BY MR. JUSTICE TWEEDIE HERE

Crown Counsel Strenuously Opposes Suspended Sentence

On the conclusion of the criminal court of opening at 10 a.m. Justice J. A. Tweedie here, by his pro-tress from J. O. Thompson, against the defendant, who was held in custody on a charge of obtaining by false pretenses goods and money from Esso Gasoline, Ltd., totalling $265, Mrs. Marie McLeod was sentenced to two months imprisonment in the crown's custody as laid down in the order of the court.

This was refused by His Lordship.

RETURNED N.S.F.

In his defense, Mr. McLeod said he had been arrested without his knowledge or consent on a charge which he had been informed by the line that she had explained the entire situation to the store.

On one instance a check was given to him as a gift, and he had been honored by the store and had been returned "N.S.F."

The store then investigated and found she had no money. After that, further investigation led to cross-examination.

The contendend, Mr. Thompson, said there was sufficient to clear his client of any fault.

His Lordship, on summing up, declared addressed both to the crown and the defense, that the court should be lenient to the defendant.

Mr. McLeod was then sentenced to two months in prison.

Turing to Edward B. Cawell, K.C., His Lordship asked if there would be any objection to suspended sentence, to which Mr. Cawell responded that he would oppose it most strenuously.

His Lordship then advised if she had any objection to say before sentence was passed. She replied that she had none.

After that, the court adjourned until the next morning when the trial could be held in the church assembly hall.

During the day, the number of passengers handled was 32. The increase last month is attributed to the fact that many tourists are on the road to the dry belt in the mountains.

A meeting of the members of the government campaign organization in connection with the national election was held at the Hotel Alberta yesterday evening. The meeting was opened with a speech by Mr. George W. Campbell, chairman of the campaign, and a recent trip will be shown. A hearty invitation to all is extended to all.

The second executive meeting of the government campaign organization was held in the Civic Block Wednesday evening, when "plane for the 1932 election" was the main topic.

At 8 p.m. a special session of the Alberta hotel at eight p.m. Friday, Wednesday night, was arranged, and further information in this connection will be carried in our next issue.

Meeting on November 20.

In the unavoidable absence through illness of the local Labour Party campaign committee, a special executive meeting was held at the Hotel Alberta Game Association at Jasper on Friday, and will present a copy of the "Alberta" to the Alberta minister of agriculture, with these lines: President John Galt of Edmonton, and others.

It was decided, however, by many delegates that serious deprivations were being suffered by the people in the province, to such an extent in some cases, that farmers have been compelled to close their businesses.

CITIES FROWN

The big mail plane has been patronized in the past few days in the Edmonton area, and the mail plane has landed.

The next arrival was a South Sister, who had come from the Commerce drive to keep this city on the map, and before the week is out, the mail plane will be back again.

George Whiston, Arvin Palmer, May Cook, Mrs. J. Selleck and S. Sibley.

The plane will circle the city again and drop more lucky bags will be distributed.

Another feature of the drive was a special airmail service, which was started by C. H. "Punch" Dinkins, well known to the public, and independent here of the Canadian Airways Company, but Frank Turley, chairman of the drive is also distributing special literature to all service clubs at their weekly luncheon meetings this week.

11 COMPANIES INCORPORATED

The Total Capitalization is

$20,000.

Incorporation of 11 new companies with a total capitalization of $20,000 has been announced by Kenneth T. Treadge, deputy provincial secretary and announced in the current issue of the Alberta Gazette. Two of the companies have no authorized capital.

On the other hand, there have been office in this city with a total capitalization of $20,000.

Alberta's largest amount of incorporation is the Army and Navy Department Store, with a capitalization of $100,000, followed by 100 shares of $100 each. Other local companies incorporated are: C. H. "Punch" Dinkins, $15,000; T. H. Moran, $15,000; China's Pure Foods, $20,000; Canadian Electric Clock Co., $10,000; and Art Shop 20,000 shares without nominal par value; Dodo Coop Company, $10,000.

PRODUCTION OF ALBERTA FUR HIGHER

Output for Year Ending June 30, 1931, Valued at $1,023,553

Alberta's production for the year ending June 30, 1931, totalled $1,023,553, according to figures released by the Canadian Fur Trade Association.

It was the highest, however, by many delegates that serious deprivations were being suffered by the people in the province, to such an extent in some cases, that farmers have been compelled to close their businesses.

CITIES MANY CASES

Mr. Ball cited numerous instances of dog sheep in pasture and in the field, which had been destroyed by herds of sheep.

Mr. Ball, who has been trying for many years, he said, to have this legislation passed, had been successful.

Clauses of the proposed legislation, read out by Mr. Ball, clearly declared that the tax was "not a great tax."

After Mr. Ball had finished his argument, he turned to the first one after another and declared that this was a "good tax."

"There isn't a man living in any district who would go around in a dog neighborhood, because the owners of dogs know they can't pay the tax," declared one speaker.

"It is in the interest of the community, the same as for the police force, the fire department, the post office, a library or a restaurant license," said another speaker. "It is strictly up to the provincial government. You can't expect every owner to pay the tax, but the municipal government will have to hold the line."

SON SHOT MOTHER TO RELIEVE HER OF BLIND GRIEF

Deed Committed In Presence of Woman's Husband

ACCUSED DEVOTED

Strange Tragedy Results In Commital On Murder Charge

Statements that a mother begged her son to kill her were made at Wimborne, Dorsetshire, yesterday. When Fred Cox, aged 27, a laborer, of Hill Farm, near Taunton, was committed for trial.

He was charged with murdering his mother, Amelia Cox, aged 62. The woman, who nearly blind, was found shot through the heart in her cottage.

Rose Phasley, for the Director of Public Prosecutions, alleged that Cox had been under an operation on his eyes which might have had some effect upon her mentality. He was described as "mentally deficient."

He admitted that he had been staying at a married sister's home at Tredegar, Monmouthshire.

On entering, he said: "She gone. She will not trouble nobody. I have to bear her graces any longer. I am going to bring the name or the gun all day."

The previous night Cox had stated, while sitting on his bed, "I am going to shoot myself much but fall back."

About an hour before it happened, he said, he had been praying God to forgive her and to have mercy.

"My God, I am sorry," he said. "When they come for me, I shall be here."

Later he heard a noise like a click.

He got up and found his wife.

"I am sorry," he said. "I am afraid I have lost a cigarette."

When Mrs. Cox died, he had been staying at a married sister's home at Tredegar, Monmouthshire.

He was charged with murder.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox had been fond of their mother, and had always been a good son.

BANDIT VIOLENCE AROUSES POLICE

Scotland Yard Stirred By Four Attacks In One Day

LONDON—Police have been disturbed to deal with a sudden recurrence of banditry in the capital. Yesterday has been receiving the attention of Lord Malet, Commissioner of the Metropolis, as Commissioner of Metropolitan Police.

Within 24 hours one man was found staggering in terror near Hampstead and robbed in a garage at New Malden, and another man was found beaten in a bungalow at Notting Hill.

Scots Yard was called in to investigate the first attack, and the victim, the victim, who was injured in the darkness, one of them hitting him in the head.

"Before I realized what was happening, he said, "I was overpowered."

"One of them hit me with a brick, then they turned out my pockets and took my money and my keys and some blank cheques."

For many hours yesterday a man lay in the High Street, trying to grab a hand which had continued to bleed.

Two young men, John Stapleton, 20, of Chelmsford, Essex, and Peter, Ernest Nuttall, 20, of London, the men on the city team, met at a pub in New Malden, returning with the empty bags.

Muttall, who had been carrying a heavy load wrapped in carpet stores from offices above in the building, had been carrying a heavy load wrapped in carpet stores from offices above in the building.

WHEAT PRICES PUSH STEADILY UPWARD THURS.

Canadian Press

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 19.—Rising in all cases, yesterday wheat pushed steadily forward on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and dealers were quoted from 1% to 1% cents.

November and December each advanced 1%, to 63¢ and 64¢ respectively, while May and July each went up 1 cent, to 59¢ and 60¢.

July 50¢, which offering and moderate export from United States interests were the chief factors in the upward movement, was quoted at 54¢ cents. Minor profits taking subsequently slightly offset the rise.

The market generally was quiet, and steady, with prices unshaken sharply backward. There were again some sales of wheat, the others, which against sales of the corresponding future at Chicago, the free market price, were apparently moving the market for buying.

A few sales from Argentina confirmed damage to new crops there as the result of recent severe weather conditions.

There was a real demand for wheat, exporters, shippers and millers the past week.

Moderate exports of barley and feed was also reported.

Little Stories for Bedtime

By Thornton Burgess (Copyright)

DANNY MEADOW MOUSE GOES ADVENTURING
Oh, Danny was adventuring, adventuring, adventuring!
Oh, Danny was adventuring all on an autumn day.
Good Fortune, pray be kind to him.
Good Fortune, pray be kind to him.
And guard him on his way.

Now wouldn't you suppose that any one old and timid as Danny Meadow Mouse would be afraid of hungry enemies always watching for him? He was only content to stay at home. We know he had the courage to do unexpected and foolish things because of his dreadful curiosity, but Don't worry, Nanny, I guess I am old enough and have had experience enough to take care of myself."

Danny is many times bigger than Danny Meadow Mouse, and then, too, he can run much faster. But there is no time of danger. But Danny is such a small mouse, he can't let himself go short that his only safety is keeping out of sight. So Danny is the last mouse to leave home for his adventures, especially as it is all the time having adventures right at home. He has been to see his mother many times since he has saved her life. He has seen his brother, the saying is, who would never come back again unless he left. But Danny respects his mother's wishes, and as you and I do our daily food, so does just part of my experience.

After all, they say, it is not so surprising that Danny was chosen of all others to go to the Great World. He is, after all, very different from the rest of us. He gets hungry and sleepy just as you and I do. He enjoys the food and the sleep

Next Story—Danny's First Adventure.

READERS' BEAUTY QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Puffins Under the Eyes

Dear Miss Leeds—What can I do for puffins under my eyes? I have a few lines around them. Would worry cause the puffiness? I am very old.

MAHIE.

Answer—Wrinkles and various forms of all skin trouble are the puffiness. My advice is that you have a good skin care treatment by a doctor and then try to build up radiant health. Have your eyes examined by an eye doctor, may be due to eye strain. At bed time pat a little tissue cream on around your eyes.

wrinkled and puffy places. Next morning with the cream and gently pat on a little of the following oil mixture: two drops of castor oil, one drop of linseed oil, one drop of olive oil, a few drops of camphor oil, half drachm tincture of camphor, one drachm salicylic acid, two drachms of white cotton. When you wash your hair, add a few drops of this mixture. Use this mixture twice a day, at the same time before the first rinsing. Do this after extremely hot or very cold water. This will help to draw the surface and give it a good skin.

Exercise definitely due to nervousness and lack of physical exercise. Try to live a perfect health.

REDUCING THE BUST

Dear Miss Leeds—I am 22 years old and my bust is too large. How can I reduce my bust without dieting?

WORRIED.

Answer—With a sensible reducing diet and plenty of daily exercise the problem of reducing your bust measure is easily solved. If you exercise you combine regular exercise with a dietetic, however, you have to be careful. You must not overdo it.

This name originated from the Old English "source," name.

The Englewood section of this family name was the house, 1st, of Weston England, who was born in 1616 and died in 1686. He married Lettice Jones, daughter of William Jones of Monmouthshire, England. James Jones, who was born at Hockley, Essex, England, near Chelmsford, W. Va., and built a place there called Englewood.

Today there are descendants of this family living in many sections of the United States.

HOME DRESS TO BEDTIME

Dresses which are worn out in spots sometimes can be made into charming blouses and shirts. It is not expensive to have them done, but I don't need to do this as a whole new outfit for next to nothing.
